"There is but one question that has been presented in the many letters which I have received on this subject, and that is as to how this section of the constitution, as amended; affects male inhabitants of foreign birth in this state. The question is asked, must a foreigner become a full American citizen before he can vote in this state, and second, 'if so, does this affect male inhabitants of foreign birth, who, before this section was amended, may have been electors?' In other words, are any foreigners by this section as amended disfranchised? My answer to this question is this: No male inhabitant of foreign birth now residing in this state, can vote at any election held in this state, until he shall become a citizen of the United States: and a male inhabitant of foreign birth, who may have been a qualified Provided, of course, that he does not come within the express constitutional exception, viz: A residence of two parts of the country.
